

INTALERESM
ELEVATING THE HEALTH OF HEALTHCARE

Intalere Consultative Services

Intalere partners with our customers to help elevate their healthcare supply chain operations. We take a simple, structured and comprehensive approach to assessing your organization and developing a clear strategy with smart solutions that deliver optimal cost, quality and clinical outcomes.

Our Value

Intalere's Consultative Services are designed to:

- Ensure your business processes are lean, functional and meet the specific needs of your unique organization.
- Identify use of technology to enable your business processes to deliver maximum results.
- Empower your people to support and operate your business processes.

In healthcare today, reducing non-labor spend means so much more than just managing the price of supplies. The key to sourcing a particular item more effectively is to understand all of the costs associated with its purchase and use – not just the visible pricing elements.

Assessment Areas

Intalere's Consultative Services team will assess your organization's supply chain in the following areas:

- Supply chain assessment.
- Physician preference items (PPI).
- Inventory management.
- Inventory data analytics.
- Value analysis.
- Logistics.
- Process flow/Lean Six Sigma.
- Staffing balance.
- Organizational structure.
- ProComp.

Our Approach

We understand your organization is unique and that your core business is to provide value to enable your clinicians to deliver the highest quality of care possible. With that in mind, we engage every customer with a distinctive approach in order to develop customized solutions specifically for you. Areas of improvement will focus on reducing acquisition prices of supplies, freight costs, clinical processing times and over procurement due to poor inventory control.

Supply Chain Spend: By the Numbers

- 40-50% of an organization's spend is supply chain related.
- 25-35% of an organization's spend is comprised of products and services.
- 15% of an organization's spend is related to supply chain logistics and distribution.
